Fire protection device integrated

The "world's smallest fire extinguisher", the E-Bulb™, has been integrated into the Digital House Panel of gekartel AG. For protection of life and property, thermally activated glass bulbs are billion-fold successfully used in the global sprinkler industry. The glass bulb breaks at a defined temperature; the sprinkler opens and releases water onto the fire to effectively extinguish. After being initiated, the E-Bulb extinguishes the fire, and interrupts the electric current. Transition-free, the liquid immediately converts into gas. As a result of cooling and (partly) by oxygen reduction, a fire on a PCB will be extinguished within seconds.

The JOB E-Bulb is the next evolutionary product development step, building upon the proven technology of JOB's outstanding quality sprinkler bulbs.
